The engagement and participation at the “Bal des Series 2017” implies the total acceptance of the present rules.

The present regulations apply to all of the Bal participants; this includes other guests (family, children, friends, etc.... present on site). Each guest is the responsibility of the participants.

Vehicles and documents

- This classic Land Rovers meeting is not a 4x4 race, nor is it a timed or ranked competition. On the bivouac as well as on the roads, the drivers need to drive at an adapted speed, keep their distance with the vehicle in front of them, and pay extra attention to their surroundings during manoeuvres.
- Participants need to be in possession of a valid driver’s licence and must be covered by their own automotive insurance and civil liability. Vehicle papers, certificate of insurance and technical controls (if applicable) of each vehicle need to be up to date and valid. The organizers have the right to check vehicles papers. The drivers need to uphold traffic laws in all circumstances.
- Every participant in an intoxicated state at the wheel of a vehicle will be excluded from the event by the decision of organizers.

Security and environment

- The site is surrounded by several lakes, participant need to pay attention to the risk of fall/drowning of persons, animals, and vehicles. Parents need to constantly supervise their children to avoid any risk of drowning.
- With regard with the dry season and the risk of wildfires, it is formally prohibited to light fires on the ground or BBQ on the site. A common BBQ in line with proper security measures will be organized inside of the common room and will be available for use by participants. Gas stoves (for hot beverages for example) on tables and inside vehicles are permitted on the site.
- For wildfire prevention reasons and with respect for the environment, it is prohibited to throw out cigarette butts. It is capital to make sure that all cigarettes are properly put out and that ashtrays are used.
- The Club Temps des Series is particularly attached to the respect of other drivers and to the environment. Participants need to ensure the adequate technical state of their vehicles, adopt a responsible manner of driving, and follow the trial without going out of the marked areas for circulation.

Bivouac

- The bivouac zones indicated by the organization need to be respected, particularly the traffic corridors in the event of an immediate evacuation and to ensure that the vehicles are able to easily access the zones of activity.
- Participants need to use their respective sites for garbage disposal.
- On site, at nightfall, noise needs to be limited to respect the tranquillity of other participants and the neighbouring area.
- Dogs are allowed during this outing under the condition that they are discreet and attached. Their waste needs to be removed by their owner.

Liability

- Participants are liable for their own actions during the meeting of “Le Bal des SerieS” on the bivouac and the rides. Participants are also liable for their guests (family, children, friends, etc.... present onsite)
- Each participant is held morally liable as well as financially in each degradation, pollution, or incident that may occur.
- Under no circumstance will the association “Le Temps des SerieS” be liable for any damaged material or physical injuries neither on the part of participants, nor for the degradation, loss, or theft of any personal items.

The organizers reserve the right to immediately exclude any participant who does not respect the rules and regulations of the meeting as well as the most basic propriety towards another participant and local populations
